North Bay Elementary School on Monday observed the anniversary of the 9-11 terrorist attack by honoring local first-responders.

"We wanted to show appreciation to our first-responders, so we invited everyone in Hancock County," North Bay Principal Crystal Anderson said, including the Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Diamondhead police and fire departments, all county volunteer fire departments and the Hancock County Sheriff's Office.

Anderson said the school's "Kindness Crew," made up of fourth- and fifth-graders, hosted the event as their first project of the new school year.

Some of the students served cake and lemonade to the first-responders, while others interviewed them about their jobs.

"The kids are actually learning about all these roles while they're doing it," Anderson said. "I thought they would be a little more shy about this, but they proved me wrong. … We're very proud of them."

Waveland okays county's first Safe Haven Baby Box

Last week, Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen approved the installation of Hancock County's first Safe Haven Baby Box.

Ward 1 Alderwoman Rhonda Aime-Gamble introduced Monica Ladner, president of the Hancock County Republican Women's Committee who spoke about the Safe Haven Baby Box.

The first box in Mississippi was installed in Long Beach earlier this year, she said.

Prior to the "blessing" of that box, Ladner said, she had been working with the company in the hopes of bringing a box to Hancock County.

According to its website, "Safe Haven Baby Boxes was founded by Monica Kelsey in 2015 to give mothers/parents a safe and legal option to surrender their baby 100 percent anonymously. Safe Haven Baby Boxes mission is to prevent illegal abandonment of newborns by raising awareness, and offering a 24-hour hotline for mothers in crisis."

Ladner said she met with the Hancock County Board of Supervisors who "gave their blessing for us to move forward."

"Of course," Ladner told the board. "It's y'all's decision because it's a city building that I need to work with. The place that the box needs to be placed is inside a 24-hour monitored system, which is a fire department. It doesn't cost to install this box. I have a licensed contractor that will do the labor. I have a licensed electrician that will do the labor. And so far, everybody I've mentioned it to has said I will give you money, just tell me when to write the check."

The cost to the city would be $300 per year, Ladner said. However, she said, the first year's cost has already been donated.

"When we get this box, it's leased to the city," she said. "We don't own this box."

There is a once-a-year inspection and recertification, she said.

Waveland hosts hearing on proposed FY 23-24 budget

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen on Thursday hosted a public hearing on the proposed FY 23-24 budget.

According to its notice, the city is currently operating with a total budget revenue of $15,017,104 and $2,548,819 is obtained through ad valorem taxes. For the 23-24 FY, the proposed budget has a total projected revenue of $18,493,846 and of that amount, $2,801,677 is proposed to be financed through a total ad valorem tax levy.

For the 23-24 FY, the city plans to increase the millage rate by 3.60 mills, from 37.55 mills to 41.15 mills.

During public comments, resident Chad Carbonne spoke to the board.

Carbonne said he is retired and lives on a fixed income.

"I understand costs have gone up," he said. "If y'all have to pull more tax revenue in with the inflation. Really, what I want to say, is that if you go for this (millage increase) please spend it wisely, because it does come out of our back pockets."

Joan Stewart, who said she is a new resident, said she "assumes that our leadership is making this increase as a result of the need."

"It seems that most of our revenue needs to come from us because there isn't a whole lot of business," she said. "And that is a result of Katrina, as far as I know. Where do I go for this strategic plan to increase the revenue based on commercial properties as opposed to the majority of the revenue coming from the residents because, over time, I'm not saying our taxes are too high, if it continues to go up, people are going to be priced out of living here."

Waveland Mayor Jay Trapani said that in most municipalities, the "majority of their revenue comes from ad valorem taxes."

As far as a strategic plan, Trapani said, the board has plans to host a workshop to discuss projects.

"We have some projects out there, interest

Bay eyes $52.4 million budget for next fiscal year

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The Bay St. Louis City Council was expected to approve a $52.4 million budget for the 2023-24 Fiscal Year on Tuesday.

"The general fund, which is basically daily operations, is $11,489,483 in total revenue, $11,472,493 in total expenditures," City Clerk Michael Reso said. "That doesn't include the Utility Fund ($5,453,259 in total revenues and expenditures) or anything like that."

The total budget summary for the new fiscal year includes $52,408,372 in total revenues and $52,391,372 in total expenditures.

In addition to the general fund, utility fund and municipal harbor fund, the city has multiple ongoing projects, Reso said, including the sewer rehabilitation and modernization project, with more than $8.3 million budgeted this year through ARPA grants.

There's also $4,801,941 set aside for modernization use tax - roads and infrastructure funding, which will be "used for sidewalk projects and Hwy. 603 improvement," including turning lanes, Reso said.

BELOVED WAVELAND RESTAURANT NOW UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE | STAFF WRITER • DESIGN BY JASON PLATZ | GRAPHIC ARTIST

Rob's RUM KITCHEN®

ROB'S RUM KITCHEN in Waveland may have a new set of hands on deck, but still offers much of the same cuisine that keeps regular customers coming back.

AHOY MATEYS!

Shannon Riesenbeck took over the operations at Rum Kitchen on June 1. She changed the name to Rob's Rum Kitchen, after her husband.

"He's my partner in life and here," she said. "He works for the city of Pass Christian and after work he comes in and works. He's a real big part of it."

As far as experience goes, Riesenbeck said, she's worked in restaurants before and worked for Starr and John "Chappy" Chapman when they owned the restaurant.

Riesenbeck is originally from Michigan and would come to Waveland to visit her son who was stationed down here.

"We just kind of fell in love with everyone being so friendly," she said.

The Riesenbecks purchased a home in Waveland where they spent their winters and then just "ended up transplanting right here."

After the Chapman's lease was up, the pair offered to sell the restaurant to Riesenbeck and she accepted.

THE GRUB!

The menu features many of the same items as before, Riesenbeck said.

"We brought back some of the things that used to be really popular when I was actually waitressing here," she said. "The coconut mango rice; a couple of the tacos; Mac N' Cheese and a couple of the burgers. We plan on bringing the brisket melt back, which was always a big one."

Riesenbeck said everything is made in house, including the restaurant's sauces and dressings.

Rob's Rum Kitchen's chefs are Bryon Donohue, Brandon Harris, and Samantha Cox.

Riesenbeck said the menu is American with seafood and burgers and also bringing in a little of the Caribbean style, as well.

This month, Riesenbeck will unveil a new menu, which she said will put some of their most popular specials on the menu for good.

The menu is available on the Facebook page, Rob's Rum Kitchen. People can also call in orders for pickup and they also work with Bite Squad and Door Dash for delivery.

THE GROG!

"We have wonderful watermelon margaritas," she said. "Our cocktails are all craft cocktails and we use fresh juice, which makes them stand out way different than anyone else."

The drink menu also includes mojitos, daiquiris, wine, and beer.

Felicia Todd, Riesenbeck's niece, is Rob's Rum Kitchen head bartender.

"She will come up with different ideas on drinks," she said. "We usually post what special drinks she has on our Facebook page."

On the weekends, Riesenbeck said, they offer a variety of drink and dinner specials. Every Sunday, they offer a brunch menu along with the regular menu.

THE HEARTIES!

Riesenbeck said the public's response has been "wonderful."

"People are very excited," she said. "We dropped the prices from what they used to be. I wanted to see more people be able to come in and enjoy the food. We've kept the same quality, but made it more affordable for everyone. We've had a lot of good feedback about that. The people love the food. We have so many really good comments about it and the atmosphere. It's relaxing and fun to be here."

The decor in the restaurant represents many elements of the beach, pirates, and sea life. Riesenbeck said she plans to add more fish designs to the walls.

"So when you look up there, it feels like you're under the sea," she said.

Rob's Rum Kitchen, located at 324 Hwy. 90 in Waveland, is open Wednesday through Saturday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Contact staff at 228-467-9099.

"It's a family-friendly restaurant," she said. "We're getting a lot more families in here, which is really great. I would just love to see more people coming in, enjoy it, and get a really good client base. I just want to be a great local place where everyone can go no matter if you're two years old or 90 years old. You can still have a good time, eat some good food, and be able to enjoy yourself."

Understanding the Financial Life Stages

It's hard to believe, but my wife, Katie, and I have been together for more than 20 years (16 as a married couple). We've done a lot of life in those two decades. We've gone through our share of ups and downs; we've purchased a home; sold a home; bought a new car; changed careers; had three children. If we had to summarize this time in a word, it certainly wouldn't be boring.

Guest Column
By Mississippi Treasurer David McRae

Of course, our story is not unique. Many, many Mississippians are rolling with life's punches, just trying to keep up. With so much happening, however, it can be easy to lose track of where your finances should be.

Recently, I came across an interesting piece by the National Association of State Treasurers, of which I'm a board member. It outlined "Six Financial Life Stages for Financial Wellness" that I wanted to share with you today.

Preparing for the Workforce

You are never too young to start on your financial wellness journey. If you are a parent with teen worker, help them understand saving versus spending, what it means to build credit, and how to manage and pay off debt. You might also work with them to navigate insurance and start investing (even if they haven't graduated yet!)

Starting a Career

After college or a few years after entering the workforce, it's important for young adults to reflect on their past financial habits. During this stage of life, you should be focused heavily on creating a budget and preparing for your first major expenses (such as purchasing a car or home).

Building a Career

As you begin to build a strong career, risk management becomes the name of the game. At this point, you've probably started to gain some assets, making it a good time to start considering family financial planning or even estate planning. Your retirement account should also be gaining steam at this point. During this stage, you should begin accounting for expenses that are beyond 6 or 12 months down the line, but instead 10 to 20 years in the future.

Hitting Mid-Career

The "Mid-Career" stage is about reinforcing the

Hancock History: Run Silent Run Deep

HANCOCK HISTORY
BY James Keating M.D.

The Gulf of Mexico was subject to a major German submarine attack to Allied shipping in the beginning of World War II from March to August 1942. Although there was little publicity of this naval warfare during the war, or limited recording in history books since the war, the inhabitants of Hancock County were very much aware of these attacks on the tankers and cargo ships by German U-Boats plying our coastal waters. A coastal blackout in Hancock County was instituted in May 1942 because cargo ships that followed the coastline were visible as a silhouette at night against lights onshore by lurking German submarines forming easy targets. Residents of Bay St. Louis and Waveland such as the beloved historian, Russell Guerin, remembered seeing the fires on the horizon during those months in 1942. A burning tanker ship could take nine days to burn and be visible one hundred miles away.

Of the twenty-three German U-Boats that took part in this campaign in the Gulf, fourteen found and successfully sunk a total of fifty-six Allied ships. These included twenty-eight oil tankers, twenty-two freighters, one passenger liner, one fishing vessel, and one sailing ship. Finally, in August 1942, the US Navy addressed the problem in the Gulf and drove the German U-Boats out of these waters. The Coast Guard instituted airplane patrols of the Gulf Coast and one plane sunk a German U-Boat on August 1, 1942. Subsequently, the Germans abandoned the Gulf for the rest of World War II and returned to the North Atlantic Ocean.

Today, submarines play a significant role in the US Navy fleet of gunboats and American blue-water power projection over the oceans of the world, especially in the South China Sea. Although it has been popular in recent press releases to comment on Chinese naval strength and its large number of vessels (approximately 320 vs. USA 280), these numbers are misleading. The US fleet has twice the aggregate tonnage than China and a 10:1 advantage in gunboat missiles. China has more sea-faring vessels in its navy, but the US ships are much bigger.

The US has seventy-one nuclear submarines compared to six possessed by the Chinese Navy which does have forty-seven inferior diesel submarines. These gunboats are called either attack submarines or "boomers." The "boomers" carry the intercontinental ballistic missiles that have nuclear warheads and are scattered all over the globe, providing part of the nuclear deterrent which might risk mutually assured deterrence if any country started a nuclear war. The nickname is employed because the missiles go boom on a target site such as a city. There are eighteen boomers. Our attack submarines participate in actual naval battle combined with navy surface gunboats and aircraft. The US Navy has fifty-three nuclear powered attack submarines whereas China has only four nuclear powered attack subs.

Hancock County is the home of the Naval Oceanographic Office (NAVOCEANO) which is a key tenant in the John C. Stennis Space Center. This big installation employs many local citizens and servicemen and has the nickname among the locals of "NAVO." The US Navy has launched one hundred unmanned underwater vehicles (UUV's) or "gliders" that collect environmental data and monitor enemy submarine activity. These gliders are directed to predetermined locations and monitored by NAVO pilots based in the Stennis Space Center in Hancock County. Thus, a network of hydroacoustic sensors use sonar technology to detect enemy submarines that navigate close to our coastal borders and/or strategic military locations such as the South China Sea.

During World War II in 1942 there was considerable German U-Boat activity in the Gulf of Mexico witnessed by the citizens of Hancock County. The US has more advanced and capable naval technology than any other navy. The US Navy's global reach, power projecting capabilities, and a vast array of aircraft carriers, nuclear submarines, and surface vessels solidify its status as the dominant naval force on earth. The US Navy alone maintains the open sea lanes in all international waters for all cargo ships of all countries which is critical for our robust global economy. In fact, according to the geopolitical strategist, Peter Zeihan, the combined navies of the wider world have less than one-tenth the blue water power projection capacity of the US Navy.

If there were no litter

Have you ever wondered what the world would look like if there were no litter? If everyone knew how to dispose of their trash and recycle properly? It wouldn't solve all of the world's problems, but it would be a start in helping to preserve our environment.

Sometimes, there may be things that you are doing that are helping our environment but really are harming it instead. When our Girl Scout Troop participated in our first campout as Brownies, we made four separate fires and began burning our trash. We put our trash in the fire, thinking we were helping the environment by not littering or leaving behind trash to be picked up later. After an educational organization called Leave No Trace, which promotes stewardship and conservation of the earth, came to talk to us, we learned we were actually making things worse. They informed us that by creating multiple fires, we were further polluting our air and killing anything below the fires. This was a valuable lesson for all of us, and we made it our goal to continue learning how to ensure we care for our environment. So, before you dispose of or leave your trash behind after any outside activity, think about whether what you are doing is helpful or harmful to our planet. If you are unsure, you can seek guidance from a professional, or there are also many informative resources online that can help you.

Kiln woman charged with embezzling nearly $700K

ECHO STAFF

A Kiln woman was charged last week for allegedly embezzling more than a half-million dollars from her employer, Best Pawn & Jewelry in Bay St. Louis.

Brandy Gebbia, 45, was charged with one count of felony embezzlement; and one count of fraudulent use of credit card with internet to obtain money.

"The Bay St. Louis Police Department received a report and evidence indicating Gebbia was responsible for the theft of $682,973 by virtue of her employment," according to a Bay P.D. press release, "and that she made unauthorized purchases with a credit card to obtain $2,148 in goods."

Bay Municipal Court Judge Stephen Maggio issued arrest warrants for Gebbia on Aug. 31 and set her bond at a total of $32,500.

Brandy Gebbia

Gebbia turned herself in at the Bay St. Louis Police Department on Sept. 1, and was transported to the Hancock County Adult Detention Center, where she posted bail.

An initial hearing on both charges has been scheduled for Oct. 20 in Bay St. Louis Municipal Court.

rates are killing people," he said. "We had somebody purchase the Rite Aid and wants to put three businesses in there, interest rates are killing him. We have people that want to build a hotel on the highway, but the decline of the Silicon Bank in California caused their 20 percent investment to go up to a 35 percent investment on a $16 million project. We're dealing with a lot of different things. We're aware of that and we're working on it."

The project workshop, Trapani said, will mostly concern city paving projects, etc.

"We're working hard to bring businesses here," he said. "We're always going to fight the elevation at the end of Coleman."

Ward 3 Alderman Shane LaFontaine added that the city does "rely heavily" on sales tax as well and the city has budgeted $3.4 million for that line item in the FY 23-24 budget.

Trapani added that there is a lot of building going on in Waveland. About three weeks ago, the city received about eight sets of plans for new homes.

The city provided a handout explaining the millage increase stating it's been "seven" years since Waveland had a millage increase.

"Waveland has absorbed increases in goods and services over the past seven years without increasing taxes to the residents," the handout states. "This increase is necessary for the city to continue to provide city services to the residents."

Trapani said that last year there was a 45 percent increase in property insurance and this year there is a 15 percent increase. Health insurance has also increased by 55 percent, he added, as well as a two percent increase to the statewide retirement program.

"We get hit with a lot of things and over the past seven years, the city has been paying these things with very minimal raises to the employees," Trapani said.

The FY '23-24 budget does include employee raises as well, Trapani said. There is a five percent "across the board" raise for city hall employees and employees in the fire and police departments. Public works and utilities employees will receive a one dollar per hour raise, he said. The only positions to not receive a pay raise are the mayor, city clerk, city comptroller, and the aldermen.

The handout from the city also listed the projected value of a mill in Bay St. Louis, which is $179,634; a mill in Diamondhead is projected to be $101,836; and a mill in Waveland is projected to be $83,357.

"While Waveland's millage may look to be higher than the other cities, two mills in Waveland brings in less revenue than one mill in Bay St. Louis," the flyer states. "For those that say their property taxes have increased over the past seven years, it is the assessed value of their house that has increased, not the millage."

The city has scheduled a special meeting for Sept. 14 at 6:30 p.m. to adopt the 23-24 FY budget and tax levy/millage scheduled for Sept. 30, 2024 at 41.15 mills.

• BUDGET

revenue is obtained through ad valorem taxes. For next fiscal year, the proposed budget has total projected revenue of $61,468,663. Of that amount, 46 percent or $28,116,255 is proposed to be financed through a total ad valorem tax levy."

The county plans to "increase your ad valorem tax millage rate by 0.55 mills from 45.96 mills to 46.51 mills," the notice states.

County Administrator Jimmie Ladner presented the budget and said that it includes a three percent pay raise for all employees.

The budget also includes the addition of server rentals; three additional patrol officers in the sheriff's office; the addition of a full-time animal shelter employee; and a refresh to E-911 system to come out of the gaming fund.

There is $1.24 million budgeted for county roads out of the gaming fund, he said.

"To fund this budget as we're talking about funding it, it would take a .5 mill increase for E-911. Part of the reason for that, a big part of the reason for that, is the funding source for E-911 is the tax that are on telephone bills," Ladner said. "It was heavily laden on land lines. As we all know, there's not many land lines left, so that source has went away. The other portion of the 1.05 increase would be for the solid waste disposal, has nothing to do with the collection contract. The reason for that is two-fold. The first one is, there was a $5 per ton increase on what we actually pay to dispose of it and there's an increase in the amount of tonnage from last year to this year."

Ladner said if the county eliminated the recycle dumpsters from solid waste disposal, "that would put us in a position where we would not have to raise that millage to .55 mills."

Ladner said after speaking with representatives from Waste Management, which handles the solid waste disposal, he learned the primary use of the recycle dumpsters is in Diamondhead; Bay St. Louis is in "distant second;" and Waveland and the county is "insignificant, and I'm using their words, not mine."

"By doing it that way, the cities would have the option if they wanted to maintain that service or not," he said. "It would put where it's being used to pay for it, as opposed to sharing a countywide millage to areas that aren't using it."

Ladner said that the county through its millage pays for "all of the disposal of solid waste."

"E-911, the same thing," he said. "The county took that on about eight years ago when the funding sources were drying up. Candidly, we were having a hard time getting the other entities to pay their portion. It's a county service, it's a basic public safety service, so the decision was made at that time to put it on the millage to cover that cost as opposed to trying to split it between all the entities based on the percentage of the calls that come from the respective entities."

Ladner said if the board wishes, he can remove the recycle dumpsters, which "if we did that, instead of seeing a 1.05 millage increase countywide, we would see just a .5 increase."

Ladner added that the school millage also went down by .5.

"What y'all do there is set a millage that covers their budget request," he said. "You have no choice, all five of you could vote no and we're still going to set that millage. What they requested, that can be covered with a .5 mill decrease. Outside the city limits as well as in the city of Diamondhead, if we were to do what we're talking about with the recycle, we would actually see a flat millage rate countywide. Now, that would not be the same within the cities, because they're in the Bay St. Louis school system, not the county."

The board agreed to remove the recycling dumpsters.

The board will adopt the FY 2023/2024 budget during a special meeting scheduled for Sept. 14 at 8:15 a.m. and set the tax levy.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for Sept. 18 at 9 a.m.

Learning to "Let it Be"

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. Gerald Richardson, D. MIN.

A recent recording by country music icon Dolly Parton has turned the heads of many in the music business as well as those who appreciate creative approaches in any aspect of artistic endeavor. Parton teamed with former Beatles stars Paul McCartney and Ringo Starr in a remake of the 1970 hit "Let It Be". The result is a stunning new version of that beautiful song which carried a message of peace and hope in the midst of a troubled time. For those of us who lived during the time of the Beatles and grew up listening to their music, this new recording provides an emotional experience of reflection and recollection.

The song (written by McCartney) contains not only a hauntingly moving melody, but the lyrics offer a message of calming hope to an anxious world. Amid all the troubles and tribulations of an angry culture it is important to find solace in the simple message of the song, "Let it Be".

What would be the implications for our lives if we learned to take seriously the message of this song?

One important implication is to recognize that the song is not a signal to give up. There are real challenges in life. There are real problems to be addressed. There are good deeds that can and should be done. It is never appropriate to simply throw up our hands in despair when we face difficult and anxiety producing situations. The song is not a call for cowering fearfully in the face of trouble.

As I listened to this beautiful revival of the music of my youth, I heard it as an anthem of hope. We are not alone in this world. There exists a spiritual presence in each of us which sustains, encourages, sometimes challenges, and offers peace to troubled souls.

Please do not think of this as a call to return to some version of "old time religion". Rather, the music offers a powerful invitation to something much more gracious. It comes as a reminder that peace is not to be found by nurturing our fears, but by embracing our possibility. It serves as an acknowledgment that even when we cannot do everything, we can do something. When we have done what we can, we simply "Let it be".

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. famously said that "The arc of history is long, but it bends toward justice." There is spiritual power in trusting that this is true. Sometimes I confess that I would like to prod the process. Sometimes I try to do just that. In the long run, I trust that there is a presence beyond myself which bends the arc of history. When I have done what I can, it is a comfort to "Let it be".

I am grateful to these musical giants for reviving a message that the world so seriously needs to hear. I am also prayerful that we will hear it, and in the spirit of trust and hope, learn to live our lives the best we can, and then, "Let it be".

Notice for Early Public Review of Proposed Intent to Perform Construction Activities in the 100-Year Floodplain and/or Wetlands

TO: All interested agencies, contractors, groups and individuals

SUBJECT: Notice of proposed intent to take action in the Preliminary DFIRM Floodplain area

This document is intended to give notice that the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission is proposing to conduct activities in the 100-year floodplain, as designated in the Digital Flood Insurance Rate Maps (DFIRM), to facilitate construction of a commercial facility to be occupied by tenants that have a connection to operations at the Stennis International Airport. This construction will hereafter be referred to as the proposed activity.

The purpose of the proposed activity is to develop a technology center that will support existing and new operations at the Stennis International Airport. The project will help to establish the growing area around the Stennis International Airport as a center for high tech business. The location of the Technical Park near the airport and existing Incubator is intended to support those connections between tenants who regularly work together on different aspects of aeronautics instrumentation.

The project area includes one parcel of land that is approximately 20 acres that will be developed in Phases. Phase I will occupy approximately 2.1 acres and involves construction of an approximately 11,500 square foot building with associated parking and sidewalks. According to the DFIRM Map number 28045C0327D, dated November 16, 2009, the project site is located in the 100-year floodplain (Zone AE) with a 16 feet base flood elevation. In order to mitigate for location within the flood plain, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission plans to elevate the structures above the 16 foot base flood elevation by adding two feet of fill or using chain walls that elevate the structure above 16 feet. A wetland delineation was completed and approximately 0.83 acres of wetlands will be filled to construct the building and parking areas. HCPHC has an Army Corps of Engineers Section 404 permit (SAM-2021-00816-PAH) and has already purchased mitigation credits for the project.

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission is requesting the use of Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and the use of U.S. Department of the Treasury Resources and Ecosystems Sustainability, Tourist Opportunities, and Revived Economies (RESTORE) Act funding for the Hancock County Technology Park Economic Development Program, and is thereby obligated to follow Executive Orders (EOs) 11988, for Floodplain Management and 11990 for the Protection of Wetlands and HUD regulations found in 24 CFR § 55.20 prior to conducting any activities affecting floodplains and wetlands. This Notice of Proposed Intent to take action is being provided in fulfillment of the aforementioned EOs and regulations.

Members of the public are invited to submit comments on the proposed activity.

Additional information on the proposed activity is available to the public between the hours of 8:00 am and 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday at the following location:

mechanism, they come and replace it for free," Ladner said. "So that's what that $300 charge is for, for them to maintain the box and re-certify it every year."

Ladner said that once Waveland agrees, fundraising begins, and after about four weeks, the baby box will be installed.

"If one baby's life is saved by being put in that box, it's worth every penny," Ladner said. "Is there a need? We don't know yet. My thing is, if one baby is saved, it's worth it."

Mississippi House Bill 1318 was passed and states that "a woman can surrender her baby safely in the box without any charges being placed on her," Ladner said.

"So if someone wants to surrender their baby and they don't want to do it face to face, they have a place to put that baby in the box and not face charges versus throwing it in a ditch, handing it to a stranger, placing it in a dumpster," Ladner said. "That mother who is not in her right mind, who is scared to death does these things and she not only has lost her baby, harmed her baby, but she faces criminal charges. I would love for y'all to help give us a safe place for a woman to surrender her baby. We want that to be the last option, but we want it to be a viable option."

According to the Safe Haven Baby Box website, the box work as follows: "Parent opens the door to the baby box and a silent alarm is triggered and a call goes to dispatch. Parent places the baby in the bassinet. A sensor is located on the inside of the box that triggers a second dispatch call. Parent can push a button or simply close the door, which sets off a third alarm and call to dispatch and locks the exterior door. Emergency personnel retrieves the baby from the inside, evaluates, and takes the baby to the hospital."

The website further states that babies dropped off in a Safe Haven Baby Box are handed over to the Department of Child Protection Services.

Waveland Fire Chief Tommy Carver, Jr., said that the box would be installed at the fire station on Hwy. 90.

The board unanimously approved a motion to accept the baby box at the Waveland Fire Station, and authorized the mayor to sign a contract, pending attorney review of said contract.

In other action:

Mayor Jay Trapani named city clerk Lisa Planchard as Waveland's Employee of the Month.

The board approved a proclamation declaring September as National Library Card Sign Up Month.

The board accepted Casey Marquar's resignation from the Hancock County Library Board and appointed Joal Stone to finish Marquar's term and reappointed to the next term.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for Sept. 20 at 6:30 p.m.

MEET BRUNO MARS.

This handsome boy has been at the shelter for a while, and is still looking for his bestie, his ride or die, his forever sidekick. Or, a family with kids old enough to play fetch and romp-n-play with this sweet boy would be wonderful. Everything about Bruno is big...his size, his personality, his bark, but especially his personality. Yes, he is a big boy! But, along with that abundant girth comes lots of love and sloppy kisses. Bruno Mars is an 8 year old Labrador Retriever mix who enjoys playing with rope toys and going for walks. He walks fairly well on a leash and harness, but he does love following a new scent. He is house trained and may even be crate trained. This dude would be a loyal companion for a single person, couple or active retirees. He could also join a family with older children, especially if they enjoy being outdoors playing with the family dog. (Because he is such a "prosperous" fella, he may pose a fall risk to very small kids.) He came into the shelter with a small breed dog, but Bruno would prefer to be the only dog in the home...he wants all of the love! No kitties either! If you think this happy, beefy guy is just right for you and your family, please call our front desk at 228-466-4516 (Mon-Fri 10am-4pm) to schedule a meet-n-greet, as he is in foster care and not at the shelter.Give him the chance to be your BFF!!

St. Augustine Seminary to hold dedication of statue, unveiling of historical marker, September 16

SEA COAST ECHO

St. Augustine Seminary will dedicate a new statue of Saint Augustine and a new historical marker recognizing the history of the Society of the Divine Word in Mississippi on Saturday, September 16 at 11 a.m.

The dedication is part of the seminary's centennial celebration, which will culminate with a larger celebration on the weekend of October 28-29.

The Seminary was founded on September 16, 1923 for the purpose of educating African American men for the priesthood.

Noted historian: Cyprian Davis in his book; "Black Catholics in the United States" said, "Certainly, the establishment of a seminary for African American students by members of the Society of the Divine Word was one of the most important events in the history of black Catholics during the first part of the twentieth century".

Although there had been a few black priests over the course of the nation's history (often trained abroad), most Catholic colleges and seminaries, like other American schools at the time, did not admit black students. St Augustine Seminary would change that tragic omission in the Catholic Church in America. For years the only place an African American candidate could be ordained into the priesthood was at Saint Augustine Seminary in Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi.

We the Divine Word Missionaries will always cherish that day of September 16th, 1923, when Saint Augustine Seminary was opened.

Join us as we prepare to celebrate in 2023 the great contribution made by the Divine Word Missionaries 100 years ago.

ing $5,390,450 for the general fund; $10,102,401 for grants; $582,000 in MS Infrastructure Modification Fund monies; $691,568 for solid waste; $500 for the American Rescue & Recovery Fund; $2 million in GOMESA matching funds; and $1,000 from a general obligation bond secured in 2022.

Total expenditures for the fiscal year would be $19,683,433, which includes a $915,514 deficit over total revenues, to be made up through other sources, including transfer from the general fund and existing cash balance.

The 2024 budget predicts a $3,924,630 ending cash balance.

One of the major projects included in the new budget is the first phase of the "Town Center Transformation" plan, which city officials broke ground on last month.

The Diamondhead City Council began efforts in 2019 to create a "Town Center" that would provide a walkable, downtown environment, Depreo said, that would encourage retail shops, restaurants and professional offices to locate in the area.

The Transformation Project will connect two distinct parts of the city and provide access to a new town center, enhance internal traffic flows, and spur commercial development, Mayor Nancy Depreo said.

The project will include adding a frontage road along I-10 to provide access to currently undeveloped land.

Other facets of the project include:

- Roadways: Complete streets, including Bike/Ped, Electric Vehicles, and decorative lighting
- Economic Development: Mixed-use commercial and residential growth
- Environmental: Greenspace, Stormwater treatments, and green infrastructure

The total projected cost of the plan is $27 million, and would include federal funding.

The roadway will connect to the parts of the city separated by I-10 and open 50 acres for development.

The plan was designed by Covington Civil and Environmental engineering and is being paid for through the Gulf Coast Restoration Fund, administered by the Mississippi Development Authority.

TIGERS TRAMPLE BEARCATS 60-41

BY PAYTON NELSON
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The Bay High Tigers traveled to Lumpkin-Magee Stadium in week three of the Varsity season to take on the Long Beach Bearcats in a high-scoring game with many turnovers and exciting plays on both sides of the ball.

The first series of the game was a quick three-and out for the Tigers after an onside kick to start the game. After the ball was punted to the Bearcats and they were brought down around the 35 yard line, the Bearcats' offense lined up with sophomore RB Junior Brown and junior QB Will Brady. On the Bearcats' third play of the drive, they attempted a triple option that was met with pressure from Tigers' DE Benny Williams, which caused a loose ball dropped by Brown and scooped up by Tigers' senior Alex Harris, who ran it 25 yards for a Tigers defensive touchdown.

What followed was a touchdown for the Bearcats by Brown then another touchdown for the Tigers from freshman Jaden Allen, both goal line rushes up the middle. Quickly following was another goal line score from Brown, which brought the score to Bearcats 14, Tigers 12 at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter began with the Tigers going up the field, making a 34-yard pass to Avery Harris then an 18-yard touchdown rush from Williams.

The next drive for the Bearcats was a three-and-out, but the punt was blocked by Avery Harris and scooped up by Freshman Jerramie Keys and brought to the endzone for the Tigers' second defensive touchdown of the game.

Afterwards, the Long Beach offense fumbled the ball once more and junior Avery Harris brought it back for another defensive touchdown for the tigers.

Following this was a punt for Long Beach, then the Tigers threw a pick six. Following the interception, Benny Williams ran the ball 50 yards for a touchdown after breaking two tackles and juking two other players.

Brown followed that up with another touchdown as the Bearcats ran in from the four-yard line.

The Tigers then scored a touchback and were brought to the 20-yard line, where Williams ran 80 yards up the field for his third touchdown of the game, which led to halftime with the score at Tigers 46, Bearcats 28.

The Bearcats' first drive of the half started with two sacks then an interception by junior Avery Harris. The two teams went back and forth throughout three possessions until Williams would strip a ball from the defender's grip and run it back once more for the Tigers to go up to 53-28.

The Bearcats received the next kickoff and followed up with a 35-yard touchdown pass to make the score 53-35, ending the third quarter.

The Tigers then received the ball after another onside kick which led to another touchdown off of a 24-yard pass to Benny Williams to put Bay High up 53-28.

After that drive, the Tigers would put in their Junior Varsity offense and defensive line for the rest of the game.

During the second-to-last drive of the game, the Tigers let up another pass to junior Caden Ahrens which was the last score of the game, finalizing the score 60-41, with the Tigers bringing home the win.

The Bay High Tigers went on the road Friday to defeat the Long Beach Bearcats 60-41.

Coach Jeremy Turcotte had this to say after the game: "Benny [Williams] played really well tonight on both sides of the ball. We had several guys that played well on both sides of the ball, Avery Harris, Christian Key stepped in to play some tight end for us, as well as defensive end, and we are going to have some guys that step in and play well on both sides of the ball and Benny is probably the number one guy who has to do that. I was very proud of him [Williams]. I thought that our overall team effort was more physical. Gang tackling has improved and we still need to clean up a bunch of sloppy, sloppy stuff but we were also without three starters tonight."

He went on to compliment three freshmen who stepped up and made a tremendous impact on the game, including Tristan Garcia and Jayden Allen. He also complimented his coaches who helped prepare these players for this game. Next, being asked about the incredible defensive performance which included three turnovers, a blocked punt, and two touchdowns he stated, "The defensive staff had a very simple gameplan this week, we countered their option very well, they got us a couple times and gave up a few big plays, but overall we played well against all three phases of their game. I think we grew up a little bit and they began to understand what it means if everyone does their job, we'll get the job done."

MOSS POINT UPSETS ROCKS 22-20

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
STAFF WRITER

The Moss Point Tigers used a ball control offense and an opportunistic defense to upset the Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws 22-20 for the first victory of the John Feaster era. Both teams appeared evenly matched in the box score at the end of the game with the exception of the final score.

The Rocks outgained the Tigers but only by 8 yards and each team was 4-for-10 on third down. However, the Tigers held the ball for almost five minutes longer than SSC which kept the efficient and fast-scoring Rocks off the field. The Rocks still control the series that dates back to 1935 with a 15-11-1 mark.

On the opening possession of the game, the Tigers put together a 14-play drive that ate up close to eight minutes off the clock. The drive culminated with Taboris Charles scoring from two yards out with 4:16 left in the first quarter. The two-point conversion by KeVon Ford pushed the score to 8-0.

The Rocks (2-1) answered on their first possession of the game with a seven-play drive that ended with Ian Gonzale Rioz scoring on a 31-yard run with 48 seconds left in the opening period. The two-point conversion attempt by SSC failed leaving the score 8-6.

Moss Point went up for good on their next possession with an eight-play drive that ended with Charles scoring from two yards with 9:11 left in the first half. The PAT by Jamayl Ducksworth made the score 15-6.

The two defenses kept each other out of the end zone the remainder of the first half.

Each team turned the ball over on downs to start the second half before SSC could find the end zone. On their second possession of the second half, the Rocks put together a nine-play drive that saw several different players touch the football. Rioz had a 24-yard gain and Isaiah Haynes added carries of 4 and 10 yards. Rioz connected with Levi Green in the air down to the Tiger one yard line before Chesley Rhodes bulldozed his way into the end zone for a touchdown with 11:45 left in the game. Evan Noel's PAT made the score 15-13.

The Rock defense held strong on the ensuing Tiger possession; however, the Rocks were unable to cash in for points.

Each team swapped possessions once before Moss Point scored on a nine-yard run by Chequin White with 1:42 left to play. The PAT by Ducksworth was good making the score 22-13.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Rocks were not through as Rioz took the kick at his own 19 yard line and then weaved his way like a serpent to the Tiger two-yard line. Rioz scored two plays later with 1:00 left in the game. Noel's PAT made the score 22-20.

Everyone in the stadium knew what was coming next when the Rocks attempted an onsides kick and nearly came away with it as two Rocks had their hands on it before the Tigers covered the loose ball and ran the clock out for the victory.

SSC head coach Tim Lala commented, "Moss Point executed really well tonight. We wanted to limit Taboris Charles and for the most part we did that. Chequin White played an outstanding game for Moss Point. We lacked passion in the first half. We made some adjustments at halftime which worked out well for us in the second half, but it was too little too late. We have to put this one behind us and get focused on Pass Christian. They, too, have a tremendous amount of skill players that can do some athletic things. We need to correct the little things that we did wrong that prohibited us from being successful tonight."

The Rocks were led by Ian Gonzalez Rioz who rushed 16 times for 105 yards and two touchdowns. He also threw for 132 yards on 12-for-18 passing. Isaiah Haynes added 38 yards on 11 carries and caught two passes for four yards. Ethan Galloway caught three passes for 58 yards while Levin Green caught three passes for 37 yards. On defense, the Rocks were paced by Chesley Rhodes with 13 total tackles followed by Spencer Cornell with 10 stops. Max Rhodes added eight stops. The Rocks return 'between the walls' at the Brother Philip Memorial Athletic Complex to host the Pass Christian Pirates (3-0) who shutout the Pearl River Central Blue Devils 42-0 last week. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m. See you at the game!

Unbeaten Hancock Hawks Topple Yellow Jackets 42-7

BY JOSEPH KEYS
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The Hancock Hawks defeated the St. Martin Yellow Jackets 42-7 at Brett Favre Field in Kiln on Friday night. Hancock won the toss and elected to kick off to the Yellow Jackets.

The Hawks defense came up big on the opening possession of the game, forcing a three-and-out after a 50-yard Yellow jacket punt forced the Hawks to take over at their 20-yard line.

Field position would not be an issue for the Hawks offense. On the very first play of the Hawks' first possession, Zach Gullung took a handoff and galloped 80 yards for a Hancock touchdown, and with 8:59 left to play in the first quarter, Hancock led 6-0 after a failed PAT. Gullung carried the ball 10 times for 143 yards and two touchdowns an average of 14.3 yards per carry.

Gullung reflected on his senior year, the goals of the team, and the difference between last season Hawks and this season Hawks.

"Senior year, the goal really is to go all the way," Gullung said. "It's one last ride, there is no other goal than to go all the way and make it to the ship. We have to go game by game, week by week. I am very confident (on winning the district). We are more of a complete team then we were last year, we have developed a lot more and spent a lot more time together."

On the next drive, the Yellow Jackets put together a drive of their own, going on a 12-play, 49-yard drive. Unfortunately for the Yellow Jackets, the Hawks defense would stiffen and the drive ended when a fourth-and-two run play was stuffed out by Jeffery Hopgood, and the Hawks took over on downs.

There was an exchange of punts by both teams on the next two possessions. The Hawks took over at the 43 yard line following a botched punt by the Yellow Jackets. It would take the Hawks only eight plays to strike. An apparent 28-yard touchdown pass to Neil Acker was nullified by an offensive holding call that placed the ball back to the Yellow Jackets' 34 yard line. However, the offense was not to be denied. On the next play, Moran connected with Todd Dedeaux for a 34-yard touchdown. The PAT attempt was no good and the Hawks led 12-0 with 33 seconds left to play in the first quarter.

On the first possession of the second quarter, the Hawks defense again forced a Yellow Jacket punt, giving the Hawks the ball on their own 44 yard line after another miscued punt by the Yellow Jackets. The Hawks would score quickly, on a six-play drive that ended with a 26-yard Moran-to-Neil Acker touchdown pass. The Hawks completed the two-point conversion with a Moran toss to Braxton Johnson in the end zone, giving Hancock a 20-0 lead with 9:41 to play in the second half.

On the next possession, the Hawks' defense stuffed the Yellow Jackets' offense again, forcing a punt and setting the Hawks up at the Yellow Jacket 39 yard line. The Hawks went on a six-play, 61-yard drive that ended with a Gullung 35-yard touchdown run. The PAT by kicker Sam Powell was good and the Hawks cushioned their lead to 28-0 with 6:07 left to play in the second half.

On the next possession, the Hawks' stingy defense forced another Yellow Jacket punt and the Hawks started their next drive on the Yellow Jacket 28 yard line. The first play of the drive was highlighted by a Todd Dedeaux 35-yard scamper that was aided by Yellow Jacket face mask penalty that placed the ball on the Hawk 17 yard line.

Retiring

This stage is all about staying on track financially once you're out of the workforce. At this time, you should hopefully be able to reap the rewards of the financial planning you did during the earlier stages of life. Now, you can take advantage of non-wage employee benefits, such as pensions, Social Security, or Medicare.

Which stage of life are you in now? Do you feel comfortable with where you are financially? Is there something you can change today to get on track? The National Association of State Treasurers has more information and tools for you at nast.org/FinancialWellness. You can also find budgeting tools and more at treasury.ms.gov/FinancialEducation.

Lakeshore Community Center. "We take for granted, as citizens, our emergency responders, but they are always there for us. … Tonight we recognize those that protect our town, protect our city, protect our families.

"We're also honoring all who have a role in protecting our communities," Brandon Ladner said. "The awards are named in honor of men and women who made great contributions to our community."

Ladner said that those gathered on Monday evening "support law and order and public safety and stand for what is right."

The first award of the evening — the Tommy Longo Award — went to long-time Waveland city employee Walter M. Johnson, who is the utility supervisor.

The David Garcia Award went to Robbie Givens of the Diamondhead Fire Department.

The Lt. Michael Boutte Award went to Hancock Sheriff's Deputy Carl Gibson.

Poplarville Police Chief Chad Dorn on Monday presented the Donald Dorn Award — named for his late grandfather — to Waveland P.D. Chief Investigator Eddie Hursey.

The Gloria Sanders Award was presented to Elizabeth Todd.

The Tommy Jennings DMR Officer of the Year Award was presented to Mississippi Department of Marine Resources Lt. Jeffery Payne.

The André Fizer Investigator Award was presented to Ernest Taylor Jr.

The Ronnie Peterson Award was presented to Officer Jimmy Hicks of the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

The James Stewart Award went to Pass Christian Police Officer Blaine Rood.

Mississippi Highway Patrol Cpl. Joshua Lacap received the David Bruce Ladner Award, named for the late patrolman who died in the line of duty in 1987.

The award was presented by Ladner's son, Brandon Ladner.

Desiree Ladner Necaise received the Anita Fowler Award, named for the long-time Hancock County dispatcher.

Bay St. Louis Police Officer Phalba Holmes was named the Waveland Community Unity Organization's Officer of the Year.

Aaron Warden of the Diamondhead Fire Department was named the Waveland Community Unity Organization's Firefighter of the Year.

Bayside Fire Department Assistant Chief Josh Lombard was named the Waveland Community Unity Organization's Volunteer Firefighter of the Year.

Hall said that all those recognized on Monday were recommended by the community, not their respective chiefs.

"They weren't picked because they were part of a clique," Hall said. "They were picked because the do what they do."

Flag Retirement Program

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home works with local residents and the veterans services organizations to properly retire any U.S. flag that has reached the end of its service.
Our program is designed to honor our national heroes, our military veterans, and to give dignity to our American Flag when it is no longer worthy of display.
We strive to see that each veteran being cremated has a flag. There is no charge for this service to our veterans.

According to the United States code, Title 4, Chapter 1, Subsection 8: "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

If you would like to honor a deceased veteran by donating an aged or worn flag to be properly disposed of, you may do so by delivering the flags to our funeral home located on the corner of Necaise Avenue and Main Street.

"We pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."
